A NOTE FROM HEAD COACH STEVE DONAHUE

There has never been a better time to be a part of the Boston College men's basketball family, and I couldn't be more excited about the future we are creating here in Chestnut Hill.

We are proud of our participation in the Atlantic Coast Conference, a league that puts as much emphasis on academic performance as it does on athletic prowess. The ACC features nine universities that rank in the top 50 according to the U.S. News & World Report and also sent five teams to the NCAA Tournament last season. This year, we look forward to bigger and even better things.

With one of the youngest teams in the country, I feel as though our potential is unlimited. After going through last season together and taking our trip to Spain in August, our team is ready to take the next step as we progress toward our goal of postseason play.

We need to make Conte Forum one of the toughest places to play in the ACC. We have taken steps in my first two seasons to increase the fan base, and as we continue to grow and improve, more and more people will want to show their support for our team.

Another goal of ours is to graduate every player in our program because we recruit players not just for four years, but for 40. Receiving a Boston College education, a Jesuit education, is one of the great predictors of success, and I have no doubt that the education received, and the experiences shared both on and off the court enrich our students' lives forever.

I think you will agree that this is a great time to be a part of the Eagles' program. We have a great group of student-athletes who will learn from this past year and leave everything they have on the floor. I am certain that once you begin to support this team, we will soon reach new heights.

BOSTON COLLEGE IMG RADIO NETWORK

IMG College, the exclusive radio rights holder for Boston College Athletics, produces home and away broadcasts for Boston College Basketball. Entering his third season, Jon Meterparel will serve as the Eagles' play-by-play voice. He is joined courtside by Malcolm Huckaby, also entering his third season. Boston College fans can listen to the IMG Sports Radio Network on Flagship station WEEI 850 AM, or any one of 11 additional stations throughout New England, or globally on Sirius/XM Satellite radio. Additionally, all games are streamed live over the internet, free of cost, via bceagles.com.

Meterparel has done the play-by-play for Boston College football for eight seasons. The Weston, Mass., native began his career at WFNZ in Charlotte, N.C., and joined the Dennis and Callahan show on Sports Radio WEEI in Boston in 2000. The show is also simulcast on NESN and is routinely ranked number one in the morning drive ratings. Meterparel called Harvard University football on TV and Harvard basketball on radio. He was also the voice of the New England Revolution. For his work on BC football, he was named the Lindsey Nelson Northeast sportscaster of the year in 2007. Jon and his wife Heather are the proud parents of two sons, Ben and Nick.

Huckaby, who hails from Bristol, Conn., attended Bristol Central High School where he helped lead the Rams to their only State Championship (Class L - 1989). He was the MVP of the championship game and an All-State performer. He was awarded a full basketball scholarship to Boston College. At Boston College, Malcolm helped to revitalize the basketball program. His senior year, he was a key member of the Eagles' team that advanced to the NCAA Tournament's "Elite Eight," defeating Washington State, top-ranked North Carolina and Indiana along the way. Huckaby still ranks 14th on BC's career scoring list with 1,316 points. He ranks third on BC's career three-point field goals made list (199) and fourth on the school's career steals list (198). Three times he was selected as the team's Most Outstanding Defensive Player. Following his collegiate career, Malcolm went on to play professionally for five years with the NBA's Miami Heat, and in Italy and France. In 2004, he was inducted into the Boston College Varsity Club Athletic Hall of Fame.

Ryan Anderson averaged 11.2 points and 7.4 rebounds per game in 2011-12 and was one of two unanimous choices to the ACC All-Freshman Team.

Heading into last season, it was difficult for head coach Steve Donahue to truly know what he had in his team. Donahue's squad featured 11 newcomers, and five of them started for most of the year. As he enters his third season at the helm of the Eagles, he has a much better understanding of where the team stands this fall.

Boston College returns 75 percent of its scoring from a season ago, 73 percent of its assists and 70 percent of its rebounds and minutes played. A combined 118 starts will also be returning for the 2012-13 season.

Donahue is beginning to see his program take the shape he wants.

"There are a lot of great things that I am really proud of that our program is starting to become. I love the character of our team, the work ethic, the way they fit into the Boston College community. All of the standards that we talked about setting; they are getting to the point where we are starting to see great progress in all of those aspects. As we get bigger and stronger, and as we add more pieces to the puzzle — I feel strongly that we are putting together a great representation of Boston College basketball in the ACC."

Donahue took the Eagles on a 10-day tour of Spain the week before classes started, where they played four games against international competition. The trip gave BC a chance to bond as a team, but it also provided the staff with an early look of how the team looks heading into the preseason.

"That trip was beneficial and eye-opening because we have a real understanding of where we are at, at the earliest point you can possibly have," Donahue said. "Typically, coaches try to get a feel of where they're at, but I am pretty sure what our strengths and weaknesses are. That being said, I think we have a great amount of improvement to do, but I'm also cognizant of the fact that we are so much better than we were a year ago. When you look at all of the things that these guys have been through in one year, we benefited greatly from it. We talk about things that we want to accomplish daily to make us better each and every day — just believe that if we do it that way, we are going to be where we want to be at the end. I think it's important to have goals and standards that you constantly talk about.

"We're light years ahead of where we were in regard to experience and physical maturity. I think we are going to look back at last year — and even though it was difficult to go through — it was really something that we are going to be appreciative of; that we were able to put so many guys in those situations at such an early part of their career. We will start seeing the benefits this year and the next three years."

BACKCOURT

The Eagles return four players to the backcourt from last season in junior Danny Rubin, and sophomores Jordan Daniels, Patrick Heckmann and Lonnie Jackson. Daniels started 25 games at point guard and Jackson started 24 times at shooting guard. They averaged 8.3 and 6.4 points, respectively. Daniels led the team with 82 assists, while Jackson made a team-best 57 3-pointers.

The 1-2 spots are boosted by a pair of incoming freshmen — Olivier Hanlan and Joe Rahon. Hanlan is a 6-4 product from Canada who has international experience and averaged 17.0 points, 7.0 assists and 6.0 rebounds as a senior. Rahon is another addition from California who was an all-state honoree in all three of his varsity seasons. He averaged 22.1 points and 7.3 rebounds in his final high school season. Donahue will use both of them, along with Daniels and Jackson, in a four-guard rotation.

"In our system, I think it's critical that we have multiple guys that we can consider a point guard. I think we have that now in Jordan, Joe and Olivier. I am comfortable with all three of those guys running the point. We'll probably play two of them at the same time. Jordan did a terrific job from January on in the ACC. He has improved his overall game, his defense has gotten substantially better, and I think he can help us at the point guard spot because he is hard to keep in front while we are getting full court pressure.

"Olivier and Joe both have really good feels for the game and can create stuff for themselves and others. The fourth guy in that lineup is Lonnie Jackson. Lonnie was our leading assist guy two games over in Spain, and he improved immensely in those four games."

"Both Joe and Olivier were guys that we were able to recruit for a couple of years, so we know them a lot better than we did the previous class. I'm very confident in both of those kids because I know them so well. I know how they were coached and I've known them since their sophomore year in high school. Both are good sized, have good overall toughness and really good skill levels. I think both of them are able to step into this league physically and compete more than the group could last year. I think they are of substantial help to us and will help our sophomore class. I expect really good things out of both of those guys."

The biggest area of concern for the Eagles is at the wing spot. Heckmann saw a majority of the time there in 2011-12 and averaged 8.3 points per game. He had a 32-point game against UC Riverside in the 76 Classic — the most points by a freshman in a game in the conference last year. However, a bout with mononucleosis gave Heckmann some hardship on the court during the season.

"The wing spot is where we are probably most concerned because we really only have one guy with size that can play the three, and that is Patrick," Donahue said. "He had an interesting summer. He played a lot of basketball with his national team in Germany. He did a good job over in Spain. I think we all know that Patrick's ability can really make us a good team. The ebbs and flows of last season is concerning, and I think he realizes that. He had some great games and then other times he really struggled.

"You will see a more consistent Patrick, and I think that is a key to our team. If we can play him and get the really good minutes that we got at times last year, that will help us greatly. We need a more consistent floor game. He is a guy that has to have a 1-to-1 assist-to-turnover ratio.

Lonnie Jackson made a team-best 57 3-pointers in 2011-12.

There are times when he is our best defender, he draws a lot of charges, but there is an inconsistency in his game there. I think he had the biggest transition to college basketball just because the style of play (in Germany) was so different. In a word, I need him to be more consistent."

Rubin has spent the most time of any of the guards at Boston College and in Donahue's system but saw his playing time decrease last year. He appeared in 19 games with one start after starting 23 games as a freshman. He was a good contributor in Spain by scoring in double figures in two games.

"Danny has done an incredible job with his strength and conditioning," Donahue said. "He has made himself a really good Division I athlete. He showed signs in Spain of being consistent with his shot. What he needs to do to stay on the floor is play with confidence. I know that is easier said than done, but he rebounds and competes, and it is our job as coaches to get him to play confidently."

FRONTCOURT

Ryan Anderson and Dennis Clifford were the two most consistent players for Donahue and the Eagles a year ago, and will likely be the leaders on the court this season. Anderson averaged 11.2 points and 7.4 rebounds per game in 2011-12, and was one of two unanimous choices to the ACC All-Freshman Team. His 7.4 rebounds led all conference freshmen.

Clifford averaged 9.1 points and 4.7 rebounds as a freshman, and those numbers should only improve as he has bulked up in the offseason to better prepare himself for the daily grind of the ACC schedule. Donahue knows that the pair will be looked upon for leadership.

"Both of them lead by example. I want them both to be more verbal, and they have been, but they're not where they need to be. I think it's difficult to ask guys to be leaders so early in their careers. It's not like they are older than the other guys, and with that being said, I think they are very confident in their games, and their leadership can really help this team. I spoke to both of them about that, and they have shown that ability. Dennis has done an incredible job in the offseason; he is 25 pounds heavier and played a ton of basketball. He is much more confident in his skills, in his shooting and in his overall ability. Ryan's getting better. He's a guy that just understands the game so well and knows he can compete at this level. He continues to improve as well.

"Ryan is more of a four but can play the five. His shot is still a little unreliable; however, he can make shots from outside so people have to get out on him. I think you're going to see a guy that has a really great year. He understands how to score and really passes it well. He knows how to defend. He is stronger and more athletic than he was last year.

"Dennis has done a remarkable job of being ready to play. He had really big games in Spain. He is finishing better, slowing himself down and guarding better. I think you're going to see a much more productive rebounder than he was last season. The hard thing is that we play him so many minutes. I'd like not to do that."

And that is where depth will need to come into play. Sophomore KC Caudill spelled Clifford for the most part last season, playing in 28 games and averaging 9.8 minutes.

"KC's determination of how much he gets to play is his physical conditioning," Donahue said. "He is a very smart player and a tough kid that plays hard. His body has to improve enough to enable him to get on the floor and play against this type of athlete. He is working hard at it and could be someone that really helps us this year."

Newcomer Andrew Van Nest is a graduate student who graduated from Harvard in the spring and can play immediately. He only appeared in one game last year but saw a lot of time in 2010-11, appearing in 23 contests.

"Andrew is an interesting wild card," Donahue said. "He wants to help us win in any way. We are trying to teach him the system. I've been impressed that he moves very well. He has a pretty good understanding of the game. Even though he played four years, he never really played substantial minutes. I think with his age and our situation that he could give us valuable minutes off the bench. He could help us with our physicality and rebounding."

The other two returners that provide depth in the front-court are John Cain Carney and Eddie Odio. Cain Carney was used in 10 games last year while Odio appeared 24 times, averaging 5.9 minutes a game.

"John is a four-five," Donahue said. "He was banged up and did not play in Spain. No one in the program — no one — works as hard as John Cain Carney. The guys will all admit that. At some point in his career he will be a valuable guy on the floor. He is a valuable guy off the floor. He does everything, and the guys respect him. I think you're going to see someone that gives us really good minutes in his career. I'd love it to be this year, but I know when we put him out there; you're going to be really appreciative that he is here.

"Eddie has done a really good job in the weight room since he got here. He is 20-25 pounds heavier. He's our best athlete and another guy that I would love to play with more confidence, more tenacity. He has done a terrific job in every aspect of the program. I think he's getting close to helping us and I hope it's this year."

HEAD COACH

Head Coach
Third Season at BC
13th Season Overall

Steve Donahue is in his third season as the head basketball coach at Boston College. He assumed the position on April 7, 2010, after serving 10 years as the head coach at Cornell.

In his first season at the Heights, Donahue guided the Eagles to a 21-13 record, including a 9-7 mark in Atlantic Coast Conference action. BC earned a berth in the National Invitation Tournament and advanced to the second round.

Donahue established an up-tempo style of play that season and allowed the Eagles to lead the ACC in field goals made, and rank second in three-point field goal percentage and assist-turnover ratio, and third in assists.

The 2011-12 Eagles were an entirely new team as Donahue lost 10 lettermen and all five of his starters from the previous year. He brought in 11 newcomers and regularly started four freshmen. BC went 9-22, but beat No. 15 Florida State at home, 64-60, on February 8, 2012.

Donahue led Cornell to three consecutive Ivy League titles (2008-2010) and a trip to the 2010 NCAA Sweet 16.

In his 10 seasons leading the Big Red, Donahue totaled a 146-138 record. Cornell achieved the best Ivy record over the last five years (55-15) and Donahue was recognized for his work by being named a court coach by USA Basketball for the Under-18 national team trials in Washington, D.C., in July of 2008. Donahue coached and/or recruited seven of the school's top 13 all-time leading scorers, two Ivy League Player of the Year selections, two Ivy League Rookie of the Year players, eight NABC All-District selections, six Academic All-District picks and two Academic All-Americans.

Under his guidance, the Big Red recorded a perfect 14-0 Ivy League mark in 2007-08, joining Penn and Princeton as the only league schools to achieve that record. GAME #1

NOVEMBER 14, 2011

CONTE FORUM

CHESTNUT HILL, MA

BC 67, NEW HAMPSHIRE 64

Freshman Patrick Heckmann had 19 points and eight rebounds and classmate Ryan Anderson recorded a double-double with 13 points and 10 boards to lead Boston College to a 67-64 win against New Hampshire.

Heckmann scored 11 of his 19 points in the second half. Anderson went 4-for-8 from the field and hit a pair of 3-pointers. Freshman Dennis Clifford scored 10 points and grabbed seven boards while junior Matt Humphrey chipped in with 12 points.

Both teams struggled from the field in the first half with BC shooting 30 percent (9-for-30) and New Hampshire at 29.6 percent (8-for-27). It was a one possession game for nearly 13 minutes until UNH's Alvin Abreu hit a pair of free throws with 7:20 left to give the Wildcats an 18-14 lead. That advantage reached 22-16 before BC closed out the half on a 14-1 run for a 30-23 halftime lead.

Anderson rattled off seven-straight points for BC to help close the gap to 22-21. Clifford gave the Eagles their first lead in more than nine minutes with a jumper in the lane to make it 23-22, which capped a string of seven-straight BC points. The Eagles turned those seven points into a 14-1 run over the final 4:37 of the half for the seven-point cushion.

The Eagles extended the lead to 10 points, 39-29, with 15:18 showing on the clock after halftime. BC maintained the healthy advantage at 51-40 but the Wildcats stormed back with 10-straight points to make it a one-point game with 9:28 to go.

New Hampshire stayed within arm's reach the rest of the way. Abreu came up with a big 3-pointer with 12 seconds left to cut the lead to 66-64 with nine seconds remaining, then freshman Jordan Daniels hit the first of two free throws for BC with eight seconds on the clock. Benson collected the rebound on the missed second attempt and with time running out, Abreu lost the ball near the top of the arc.

WORCESTER, MA

HOLY CROSS 86, BC 64

Devin Brown scored 21 of his 32 points in the second half as Holy Cross pulled away for an 86-64 win over Boston College.

R.J. Evans scored 14 points and Dave Dudzinski added 10 points for the Crusaders.

Jordan Daniels had 15 points and John Cahill had 13 to lead Boston College. The Eagles played without their leading scorer in the season-opening win over New Hampshire — forward Patrick Heckmann, who was sidelined with a sprained ankle.

Holy Cross shot 53.4 percent from the field, connecting on 11 of 21 from behind the 3-point line. Boston College went only 8 of 27 from 3-point range.

The Crusaders led by eight at halftime and had their advantage sliced to 45-40 on Dennis Clifford's basket with just over 17 minutes to play. But they outscored BC 8-2 over the next 2 1/2 minutes to pull ahead 53-42 on Evans' driving basket with 14 1/2 minutes left.

The Eagles closed their deficit below double digits for the last time in the game on K.C. Caudill's two free throws, making it 53-44. The Crusaders then broke it open with a 17-7 run over the next six minutes. Evans had seven points in the run and Brown scored five, capping it with a 3-pointer from the right wing that made it 70-51 with 8:23 to play.

Holy Cross opened a double digit lead twice in the first half before taking a 38-30 edge into intermission.

Leading 16-13, the Crusaders went on a 12-3 run over a 3:48 stretch. Justin Burrell started the spree with a 3-pointer from the top of the key and Miller and Brown nailed 3's on consecutive possessions later.

BC closed the gap to 30-24, but Holy Cross scored eight of the next 11 points.

ANAHEIM CONVENTION CENTER

ANAHEIM, CA

SAINT LOUIS 62, BC 51

Freshman Dennis Clifford had 10 points and eight rebounds and classmate Ryan Anderson added 12 points as Saint Louis defeated Boston College, 62-51, on Thanksgiving Day in the opener of the 76 Classic at the Anaheim Convention Center.

Clifford went 4-for-6 from the field and half of his rebounds were on the offensive end. Anderson scored 10 of his 12 points after halftime and junior Matt Humphrey scored all 12 of his points in the second half.

Boston College jumped on the Billikens early and took an 11-5 lead into the first television timeout. Clifford scored the last two buckets for the Eagles in that span. The lead turned to eight points following the break when freshman Eddie Odio dunked home an offensive rebound.

Saint Louis climbed back into the game and earned its first lead since 2-0 when Cody Ellis hit a layup to make it 19-18 SLU with 6:15 left in the half. Those points were part of a 14-5 Billiken run to the end the first 20 minutes as they took a 29-23 lead into the break.

SLU came out with a hot hand from the field following halftime and started things with a 16-7 run to build a 45-30 advantage with just over 15 minutes to play. Brian Conklin had seven of those points. The Eagles had some more left in the tank and battled the entire way, cutting the lead to 58-51 with 2:58 left in the game. Anderson hit a pair of 3-pointers in that span and Humphrey added one as well.

That is as close as BC got as Saint Louis' Kwamain Mitchell scored the game's final four points to seal the victory for the Billikens.

Mitchell led all scorers with 20 points while Conklin scored 18, going 7-for-11 from the field for SLU.

ANAHEIM CONVENTION CENTER

ANAHEIM, CA

BC 66, UC RIVERSIDE 61 (OT)

Freshman Patrick Heckmann scored 32 points to lead Boston College to a 66-62 overtime win against UC Riverside in the 76 Classic.

Twenty-one of Heckmann's points came in the second half and overtime. He also added five rebounds. Junior Matt Humphrey scored nine of his 11 points after the first half. Freshman Dennis Clifford had eight points and four rebounds off the bench.

Heckmann was the driving force for many runs, the first coming when he scored five-straight points to give BC an early 12-8 lead. The Highlanders responded with a 16-6 run over the next nine minutes to build a 24-18 lead with 2:24 left in the half. Phil Martin scored the last six points in that streak.

The Eagles cut the deficit to three points, 26-23, on a Heckmann 3-pointer to close out the half.

Heckmann came out of the locker room and scored the first nine BC points in the second half in a 9-2 run to give the Eagles a 32-28 advantage.

UC Riverside wasn't affected though, as it came back with 11 unanswered points to regain the lead, 39-32, at the 11:08 mark.

Graduate student John Cahill gave BC its first lead in over 12 minutes when he connected on his only shot of the game, a 3-pointer to make it 49-48 with 3:32 left in regulation. The Eagles then scored the next five points to build a six-point lead with just over two minutes to go.

Riverside rallied once again and finished the last 1:01 of regulation with an 8-2 run, capped by a Harrison Gaines 3-pointer with 35 seconds left that forced overtime.

In the extra session, Clifford and sophomore Gabe Moton connected on consecutive baskets to give BC a two-possession advantage, 62-58, with 2:36 remaining. Heckmann sealed the win with a pair of free throws with three seconds left.

PENN STATE 62, BC 54

Junior Matt Humphrey led Boston College with 15 points as the Eagles lost to Penn State, 62-54, in front of 4,326 fans at Conte Forum as part of the Big Ten/ACC Challenge.

Humphrey was 5-for-6 from the foul line and had four rebounds. Sophomore Gabe Moton scored 10 points for the second-straight game and also went 5-for-6 from the charity stripe. He had four assists and no turnovers in 36 minutes of action.

It was the first loss for BC in the Big Ten/ACC Challenge in six games.

Boston College jumped out to 12-4 lead in the first 5:37 of the game on the heels of Kyle Caudill's six-straight points to start. Moton and Anderson both hit threes in that run to provide the eight-point cushion.

Penn State responded with 10 unanswered points over the next two minutes to take a 14-12 lead with 12:13 on the clock. Jermaine Marshall scored five points in the run, including the go-ahead 3-pointer. Graduate student John Cahill ended BC's 4:58 scoring drought when he hit a shot from beyond the arc to give the Eagles the lead again. BC took a 29-26 lead into the locker room at the half.

Penn State's Tim Frazier jump-started the Nittany Lions out of the break, scoring five of their six-straight points after the opening whistle. The Eagles responded with nine unanswered points of their own to build a six-point lead, 38-32, with 14:42 left in the game.

The Nittany Lions climbed back into the game and tied it for the second time, 42-42, when Frazier connected on a 3-pointer with 10:22 left. After a couple of more ties, Frazier hit another three to help build a four-point lead for Penn State.

The Nittany Lions led the rest of the way as their defense buckled down. PSU allowed just one BC basket in the final 9:42 — a 3-pointer by Cahill with 18 seconds left — to aid in a 20-9 run to end the game.

CHESTNUT HILL, MA

BU 75, BC 61

Freshman Lonnie Jackson scored 11 points in his first collegiate start but Boston College lost to visiting Boston University, 75-61, in front of 4,876 fans at Conte Forum.

Jackson went 4-for-9 from the field and 3-for-7 from beyond the arc. Freshmen Ryan Anderson and Dennis Clifford both had nine points.

Boston University opened the game with an 11-4 run in the first 2:46 thanks to a pair of D.J. Irving 3-pointers, but BC rattled off seven unanswered points in the next four minutes to tie the game.

BC used those points and a hot start from the field to go on a 21-5 run over a nine-minute span to build a 25-16 lead with 7:29 left in the half. Anderson scored all nine of his points in that stretch. A pair of BU 3-pointers ended the run and started one for the Terriers who scored 10-straight points to take a 26-25 lead with 4:35 left. The teams went into the locker rooms tied at half-time, 31-31.

The two teams — which were tied nine times and exchanged the lead 13 times — played within one possession of each other for the first nine minutes of the second half before BU went on a decisive 14-3 run over three minutes to take a 58-48 lead with 7:27 to go.

BC cut the deficit to six points, 65-59, but could not get any closer. Partin hit another 3-pointer to make it a nine-point game before the Terriers pulled away.

Partin led all scorers with 27 points and Irving added 17, seven assists and six rebounds for BU. Dom Morris scored 11 points and grabbed 11 boards, and Matt Griffin recorded 11 points.

PROVIDENCE 64, BC 57

Freshman Ryan Anderson scored a career-high 16 points off the bench as Boston College lost at Providence, 64-57, Thursday night in front of 8,051 at the Dunkin' Donuts Center.

Anderson went 5-for-8 from the field and connected on three 3-pointers. Freshman Dennis Clifford matched a career high with 10 points coming off the bench and grabbed six rebounds. Classmate Patrick Heckmann recorded 12 points, going 9-for-10 from the foul line.

The Friars maintained a slim advantage for most of the second half. BC pulled within a point, 49-48, on a Jordan Daniels layup with 8:17 left.

The Eagles couldn't close the gap further and with just over a minute left, Henton got his own rebound and muscled a shot over two defenders to give the Friars a comfortable seven-point lead.

Henton led all scorers with 21 points and Vincent Council added 17 points for the Friars.

GAME #10

DECEMBER 11, 2011

CONTE FORUM

CHESTNUT HILL, MA

BC 66, STONY BROOK 51

Boston College held Stony Brook to 11 points in the first half as the Eagles defeated the Seawolves, 66-51, in front of 3,426 fans at Conte Forum.

The 11 first-half points scored by Stony Brook were the fewest in a half in Conte Forum history by any team. The previous low was held by Georgetown which scored 12 in the first half on January 29, 2005.

Freshman Patrick Heckmann led Boston College with 18 points and was nearly perfect in the game. He was 5-for-5 from the floor, including a pair of 3-pointers, and went 6-for-7 from the foul line. Freshman Ryan Anderson had 10 points and eight rebounds, and classmate Jordan Daniels recorded 12 points and eight boards.

Both teams started slowly on the offensive end and BC led early, 6-4, before Stony Brook scored seven unanswered points to take an 11-6 lead with 11:50 on the clock. The Eagles were forced to take a timeout and responded defensively, not allowing another point the rest of the half.

BC scored 22-straight points in the final 10:36 of the first half to build a 28-11 lead. Heckmann and freshman Lonnie Jackson combined to hit four-consecutive 3-pointers in a portion of the run.

Stony Brook matched its first half point total in the first 2:27 of the second and started on an 11-3 run. That streak pulled the Seawolves to within nine, 31-22. BC went on a quick 7-2 run a little later to make it a 15-point game at the 12:27 mark.

The Seawolves cut their deficit to eight points, 47-39, when Bryan Dougher hit a 3-pointer with 8:33 left in the game, but that is as close as they would get.

Dougher led all scorers with 21 points for Stony Brook and Anthony Jackson had 14 off the bench.

BC maintained a double-digit lead until the 5:12 mark of the half when a pair of Frankie Dobbs free throws made it a 27-19 BC lead. Those points were part of a quick 8-2 Bryant run.

The Bulldogs then closed out the half on a 13-5 run to cut their deficit to just two points, 34-32. Dobbs led the Bryant attack with five points.

BC started the second half just like the first, scoring the first 10 points to build a 44-32 lead. Jackson scored eight of the 10 points in the run and 11 of the first 13 points overall. The Eagles

Baron hit a 3-pointer with 5:31 left in regulation to give URI a 58-57 edge, then both teams went cold from the

The Rams got the offensive rebound on the miss of the second free throw and took a timeout with 18 seconds on the clock. Baron dribbled at the top of the key and took a three at the buzzer that was off target, forcing overtime.

URI scored the first five points in the extra session thanks to a pair of Orion Outerbridge free throws and a Powell 3-pointer. BC cut the lead to two, 65-63, when Heckmann tipped in a missed shot. Heckmann then forced double overtime when he banked in a floater at the buzzer.

URI held a 68-67 lead in the second extra session before rattling off five-straight points, capped by a Baron 3-pointer with 1:07 left to make it a 73-67 game. Heckmann continued his hot hand as he hit a deep three to cut the lead to three with 39 seconds remaining, but that is as close as BC would get.

Clemson regained the lead by scoring the next six points to take a one-point lead and stop the BC run. The teams stayed within three points of each other and with 2:59 left, Clifford dunked a nice feed from Jackson to make it 56-54 BC.

Clemson's Tanner Smith drew a foul on a 3-point attempt with just over a minute left and made two free throws to tie the game. Clifford struck again on the next BC possession and laid in a bucket to give BC another two-point edge. Jackson then forced Smith to travel with 31 seconds left, but Clifford missed a couple of free throws.

Milton Jennings was then fouled and hit one of his two free throws to cut the BC lead to 58-57, but Jackson hit a free throw to make the lead two points once again. On the final Clemson possession, Devin Booker was fouled putting back an offensive rebound with 1.0 on the clock. He missed his first free throw and had to miss his second, but he left too early and was whistled for a lane violation.

CHESTNUT HILL, MA

BC 61, VIRGINIA TECH 59

Freshmen Dennis Clifford led all scorers with 15 points to lead Boston College to a 61-59 win against Virginia Tech in front of 5,038 fans at Conte Forum.

Clifford went 5-for-11 from the floor and hit five of his six free throws. Junior Matt Humphrey scored 14 points and had eight rebounds. Freshman Ryan Anderson had 12 points and also had eight boards.

Boston College led for the first 12 minutes of the game but the advantage was never more than four points. Virginia Tech forced four ties before taking its first lead of the game, 16-15, at the 7:11 mark. The Hokies took their largest lead of the half, 25-20, when Cadarian Raines connected on a jumper. BC ended the half on a 9-2 in the last 1:44 to take a 29-27 lead into the locker room. Freshman Jordan Daniels scored the last five points, hitting a three and then connecting on a runner as time expired.

The BC lead reached six, 35-29, in the first four minutes of the second half after Humphrey laid in a bucket on the break. The Eagles' defense held Virginia Tech without a field for the first 8:03 of the half, but the Hokies hit nine free throws in that span to stay in the game. Raines ended the drought at 11:57 with a jumper in the paint to cut the BC lead to 42-38.

The Eagles steadily increased their advantage and took their largest lead to that point with 10:01 left, 48-40, after Humphrey hit two free throws. Anderson made it a 10-point game when he hit a pair of free throws with 7:32 on the clock.

Virginia Tech cut an 11-point deficit to five when Robert Brown sank consecutive 3-pointers with 2:18 to go, but both teams went cold from the field after that. Clifford made it a seven-point lead with a free throw with 16 seconds left before Jarell Eddie hit a three. Freshman Lonnie Jackson hit one of two free throws with eight seconds on the clock, then Jarell hit another 3-pointer to make it 61-59 with 0.3 on the clock. BC inbounded the ball and time ran out.

Victor Davila led Virginia Tech with 14 points and Dorenzo Hudson had 13.

Freshman Ryan Anderson recorded his fourth double-double of the season with 13 points and 11 rebounds as Boston College lost to visiting Wake Forest, 71-56, in front of 4,986 fans at Conte Forum.

Anderson went 5-for-7 from the foul line in the game. Freshman Jordan Daniels had 12 points and five assists, and classmate Lonnie Jackson scored 10 points.

Wake Forest led the entire game and started out with an 11-4 advantage at the first media timeout. The lead reached eight points at the 10:26 mark as BC struggled from the floor, going 3-for-16 up to that point. Daniels snapped the poor shooting with a trey to cut the deficit to five.

The Wake Forest lead reached as many as 13 points twice in the first half and the Demon Deacons led, 34-21, with 1:45 left after C.J. Harris scored three straight points. BC cut into the lead before the break by scoring the last five points to make it a 34-26 game. Anderson had three of the points while Daniels ended the half with a pair of free throws.

BC started the second half on a quick 9-4 run to make it a three-point game, 38-35, the closest it had been since the 18:07 mark of the first half. Junior Matt Humphrey had two baskets and Jackson capped the scoring with a long jumper.

The Demon Deacons regained a comfortable lead by responding with a decisive 12-3 run over the next 3:51 to make it a 52-40 lead. Travis McKie paced Wake with seven points in that span. The Eagles could only get as close as nine points, 59-50, at the 3:40 mark.

GAME #20

JANUARY 26, 2012

JOHN PAUL JONES ARENA

CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA

VIRGINIA '66, BC '49

Freshman Ryan Anderson had his second double-double in as many games with 12 points and 10 rebounds as Boston College lost at #19 Virginia, 66-49, in front of 9,827 fans at John Paul Jones Arena.

Anderson now has five double-doubles on the season.

Mike Scott scored 18 points for Virginia, which pulled away from a 44-all tie with a 22-5 game-ending run. Jontel Evans and Akil Mitchell, who again replaced injured center Assane Sene in the starting lineup, both scored 10 points for Virginia.

The Eagles stayed in it with 3-point shooting. Virginia scored on five straight possessions early in the second half, and the Eagles scored on only three, but all three baskets were 3-pointers — by Gabe Moton, Lonnie Jackson and Matt Humphrey. When Virginia came up empty on a few consecutive trips, an inside basket by Jordan Daniels and a wide-open 3 by Rubin from the left corner tied it at 44.

A driving basket by Evans and another by Malcom Brogdon gave Virginia a 48-44 lead. The Cavaliers failed to get anything out of consecutive turnovers by the Eagles, but BC then bailed out Virginia by fouling Mitchell on a fast-break layup. He made both free throws.

A baseline jumper by Darion Atkins, another driving bank by Evans and Sammy Zeglinski's 3-pointer — his first in two games — made it 57-46.

Two 3-pointers by Zeglinski and two free throws by Scott capped the burst for the Cavaliers.

Virginia trailed 15-14 until Mitchell scored inside with 8:40 left, sparking a 17-8 run to end the half. Scott had eight points in the run, and Joe Harris capped it with a 3-pointer, the Cavaliers' first since early in the first half in their previous game.

COMCAST CENTER

COLLEGE PARK, MD

MARYLAND 81, BC 65

Freshman Ryan Anderson recorded his sixth double-double of the year with 22 points and 10 rebounds as Boston College lost at Maryland, 81-65, in front of 12,465 at the Comcast Center.

Anderson went 9-for-6 from the field. Classmate Lonnie Jackson notched 19 points and went 8-for-10 from the foul line. Freshman Dennis Clifford added 11 points.

Despite a strong final push that closed that gap to seven points with three minutes left, the Eagles couldn't capitalize.

Maryland's Terrell Stoglin scored 19 of his 24 points in the decisive first half, going 7-for-10 from the field before halftime. He put the Terrapins in front for good by scoring 14 consecutive points over a three-minute span.

Maryland led by 19 with 13 minutes elapsed and 41-27 at halftime. After Boston College scored the first six points of the second half, 3-point plays by Nick Faust and James Padgett ignited a 9-2 spree that made it 50-35.

The Eagles closed to 63-56 with three minutes left but could not complete the comeback.

Padgett scored 15, Faust had 14 and Sean Mosley added 13 to help Maryland notch the win.

Anderson scored BC's first five points as the Eagles built a 10-4 lead. Stoglin then connected from long range, followed with a jumper in the lane and tacked on three straight 3-pointers to complete a 14-0 run.

After Clifford made two foul shots for Boston College, the Terrapins resumed their long-range barrage. Faust, Mychal Parker and Mosley all drilled threes, and a layup by Faust made it 29-12. At that point, Maryland was 11-for-15 from the field, including 6-for-8 beyond the arc.

It was 33-14 before Boston College got a pair of threes from Jackson in an 8-0 burst. Mosley stemmed the surge by scoring in the lane and Stoglin added a layup.

NC STATE 78, BC 57

Freshman Ryan Anderson led Boston College with 22 points and 12 rebounds but the Eagles lost to NC State, 78-57, in front of 19,520 fans in the opening round of the 2012 ACC Tournament.

Anderson went 9-for-15 from the floor and recorded his seventh double-double of the season.

Freshman Lonnie Jackson chipped in with 10 points for BC while classmate Jordan Daniels had eight points and seven assists.

NC State's Scott Wood made five 3-pointers and finished with 22 points to lead the Wolfpack.

NC State raced out to a 14-0 lead, turned back several runs by the Eagles, then pulled away in the closing minutes. Wood hit a couple of key 3-pointers, denying any hopes of a Boston College comeback. He finished 5-for-9 beyond the arc, sending the Wolfpack into the quarterfinals.

ACC

HISTORY

BOSTON COLLEGE

Consistency. It is the mark of true excellence in any endeavor.

However, in today's intercollegiate athletics, competition has become so balanced and so competitive that it is virtually impossible to maintain a high level of consistency.

Yet the Atlantic Coast Conference has defied the odds. Now in its 60th year of competition, the ACC has long enjoyed the reputation as one of the strongest and most competitive intercollegiate conferences in the nation. And that is not mere conjecture, the numbers support it.

Since the league's inception in 1953, ACC schools have captured 127 national championships, including 67 in women's competition and 60 in men's. In addition, NCAA individual titles have gone to ACC student-athletes 145 times in men's competition and 104 times in women's action.

If success is best measured in terms of wins and losses, then the ACC is unrivaled in NCAA annals. With Duke's victory over Butler in the 2010 NCAA title game, ACC teams have won five of the last 12 NCAA National Championships and 12 overall, including eight over the last 22 years.

No conference has compiled a better NCAA Tournament record than the ACC. Since the inaugural tournament in 1939, league teams have posted an NCAA Tournament-best mark of 364-188 for a sterling .659 winning percentage against the nation's toughest competition.

The ACC and the Big 12 are the only two conferences to have each of its teams make at least one NCAA Tournament appearance over the past six years.

Since 1985, the ACC has produced 24 Final Four teams, an average of almost one per year and six more than any other conference. The ACC has had at least one team in the Final Four in 19 of the last 24 years.

Since the NCAA Tournament was expanded to 64 teams in 1985, ACC teams have compiled a 257-131 (.662) NCAA record, including 71 Sweet 16 appearances and 24 Final Four berths — all NCAA Tournament bests. Since 1985, 72 of the 142 ACC teams receiving NCAA berths have won at least two NCAA Tournament games.

North Carolina's Tar Heels lead all ACC schools with five NCAA basketball championships to their credit. Duke is next with four national titles, followed by NC State with two and Maryland one. The Tar Heels claimed NCAA titles in 1957, 1982, 1993, 2005 and 2009, while the Blue Devils won their fourth title in 2010, following earlier championships in 2001, 1992 and 1991. The Wolfpack walked away with the coveted crown in 1974 and 1983 while the Terps claimed the 2002 national title.

The ACC has 10 or more NCAA Tournament wins 13 times overall, and the league has not posted a losing record in NCAA Tournament play since 1987. The conference's 25-year non-losing streak in NCAA Tournament play is tops among all conferences.

Since 1981, the ACC has produced 39 consensus All-Americans — 15 more than any other conference and has accounted for 24 percent of the nation's consensus All-Americans (39-of-165).

Seven of the last 16 and nine of the last 20 consensus National Players of the Year have been from the ACC. Since 1975, the ACC has had 16 consensus National Players of the Year — 12 more than any other conference. In addition, nine of the ACC's 16 National Players of the Year were unanimous selections.

A year ago the ACC had 58 players on NBA rosters. In addition, over the past seven years 59 ACC players have made their NBA debuts, including an all-time high 15 in 2006.

In this past June's 2012 NBA draft, the ACC had eight players selected overall, including six in the first round. The ACC has had five-or-more first round selections in five of the past six years and has had at least one first-round pick in 24 consecutive NBA drafts. Since 1986, the ACC has had 103 first round selections — 15 more than any other conference.

With three teams — North Carolina (4), Duke (8), Florida State (10) — listed in the final Associated Press ranking, the ACC extended its streak to 52 consecutive seasons with at least one team ranked in the top 10 of the final AP Poll.

THE CHAMPIONSHIPS

The conference conducts championship competition in 25 sports — 12 for men and 13 for women.

The first ACC championship was held in swimming on February 25, 1954. The conference did not conduct championships in cross country, wrestling or tennis during the first year.

The 12 sports for men include football, cross country, soccer, basketball, swimming, indoor and outdoor track, wrestling, baseball, tennis, golf and lacrosse. Fencing, which was started in 1971, was discontinued in 1981.

Championships for women are currently conducted in cross country, volleyball, field hockey, soccer, basketball, swimming, indoor and outdoor track, tennis, golf, lacrosse, softball and rowing.

ACC HISTORY

The Atlantic Coast Conference was founded on May 8, 1953, at the Sedgefield Inn near Greensboro, N.C., with seven charter members — Clemson, Duke, Maryland, North Carolina, North Carolina State, South Carolina and Wake Forest — drawing up the conference by-laws.

The withdrawal of seven schools from the Southern Conference came early on the morning of May 8, 1953, during the Southern Conference's annual spring meeting. On June 14, 1953, the seven members met in Raleigh, N.C., where a set of bylaws was adopted and the name became officially the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Suggestions from fans for the name of the new conference appeared in the region's newspapers prior to the meeting in Raleigh. Some of the names suggested were: Dixie, Mid South, Mid Atlantic, East Coast, Seaboard, Colonial, Tobacco, Blue-Gray, Piedmont, Southern Seven and the Shoreline.

Duke's Eddie Cameron recommended that the name of the conference be the Atlantic Coast Conference, and the motion was passed unanimously. The meeting concluded with each member institution assessed $200.00 to pay for conference expenses.

SILVIO O. CONTE FORUM

In October 1988, Boston College proudly opened one of the most innovative and technologically advanced athletic and convocation centers in the nation — the Silvio O. Conte Forum.

Conte Forum is the home to the men's basketball office suite, locker room, strength and conditioning, and sports medicine facilities.

The Forum includes a main arena that can accommodate 8,606 spectators for basketball and 7,884 for ice hockey. The facility also houses a 950-seat auxiliary gymnasium for basketball practices and Olympic-sport competitions; offices for the Athletics Association staff and coaches; film and conference areas; a state-of-the-art weight room and adjacent sports medicine facility for varsity athletes; function and meeting rooms; and luxury boxes that overlook both the football stadium and the basketball/hockey arena.

Attached to Alumni Stadium, the University's football facility, Conte Forum rises to the equivalent of 11 stories above field level. The east side of the building also serves as an upper-deck grandstand for the football field and includes a two-level football press box facility. The hockey press box is located on the south side of Conte Forum with a center-ice location and houses the print, radio and television media.

Conte Forum is pre-wired for television broadcast of virtually any sport, lecture, musical or liturgical event. The lighting systems — both in the arena and Alumni Stadium — meet national network specifications. The arena also features two Sony Jumbotron instant replay screens and scoreboards — the first such technologically advanced systems to be installed in any collegiate arena in the nation.

The Boston College basketball team began its 1988-89 Big East Conference schedule on Dec. 7 on ESPN, the first nationally televised event from the forum. The building was formally dedicated prior to the nationally televised Boston College-Georgetown basketball game on Feb. 18, 1989. Boston College has hosted two Hockey East Association Tournaments before standing-room-only crowds of close to 8,000. The forum hosted its first concert, Elvis Costello, and the Rev. Jesse Jackson spoke to a crowd of more than 4,000 in April 1989. In May 1990, more than 5,000 people attended a Baccalaureate Mass, which was followed one week later by the Carroll School of Management graduation ceremony.

The hockey rink in the multi-purpose facility was dedicated in memory of longtime ice hockey coach John A. "Snooks" Kelley, who in 36 years at the Heights became the first collegiate coach in his sport to win more than 500 games. The auxiliary gymnasium was dedicated in memory of Frank Power, the longtime freshman and assistant varsity basketball coach. The function room in the forum, located on the third floor, was dedicated in memory of Rev. Joseph Shea, S.J., who served as Boston College's longtime university representative to athletics.

In its 24 years in Conte Forum, the Boston College basketball team has a 254-124 record. Included among that total are 15 seasons with more than 10 wins. The 2000-01 Eagles, who advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament, finished with a perfect 17-0 home record.

The $25 million Conte Forum was designed by the architectural firm of Sasaki Associates of Watertown, Mass. Construction, which began during the summer of 1986 and was completed in 1988, was by Richard White Sons of Auburndale, Mass.

DANYA ABRAMS '97

Among his many career highlights was a Conte Forum-record 20-rebound effort against Providence on Jan. 22, 1994. After graduation, Abrams enjoyed a lengthy professional career in Europe.

This diminutive guard led the Eagles to postseason play in each of his four seasons at the Heights, reaching the NCAA Tournament's Elite Eight in 1982 and its Sweet 16 in 1985. Adams served as captain for the 1982-83, 1983-84 and 1984-85 squads, and was an All-Big East selection in each of those years. He still ranks eighth on BC's all-time scoring list with 1,650 points. He also registered 475 career assists, placing him fourth on BC's career list. In addition, Adams' 275 career steals rank fourth all-time in the Big East and lead all BC defenders. Upon leaving the Heights, Adams played for the NBA's Denver Nuggets, Washington Bullets and Charlotte Hornets, culminating in his selection to the 1992 NBA All-Star Game.

STEVE ADELMAN '68

This sweet-shooting forward was the leading scorer on Bob Cousy's NCAA and NIT teams that went a combined 62-16 during his varsity career (1965-68). Adelman was known as a pure scorer with the confidence to shoot in any situation. He averaged 18.9 points per game for the 1966-67 team that finished with BC's best record ever (22-3). Adelman helped the Eagles give eventual national champion UCLA its closest contest of the 1966-67 season, before bowing 84-77 to the Bruins at Madison Square Garden. He earned All-America third-team honors as a senior, as well as NIT all-star honors that same year. Adelman, who finished with a career scoring average of 17.2 points per game, was drafted by the Baltimore Bullets of the NBA.

Perhaps the greatest basketball player ever to don maroon and gold, Austin still holds BC records for career scoring average (27.1 points per game over three varsity years), season scoring average (29.2 points per game in 1963-64) and points in a game (49 against Georgetown). Austin scored 43 points against Utah State as a junior and led the Eagles to the NIT in each of his final two years. Coach Bob Cousy's first recruiting prize, Austin was named All-America as a senior.

The following year, Bagley upped his production to 21.1 points per game and led BC to the NCAA Tournament's Elite Eight. Bagley left BC after his junior season and enjoyed a 13-year career in the NBA. He played for the New Jersey Nets, Cleveland Cavaliers and Boston Celtics.

Barros tallied his 2,000th point in his 105th collegiate contest — against St. John's on Jan. 21, 1989. He finished his career with 2,342 points, a total that remains second on the school's career scoring list. The 5-foot-11 guard tallied 30 points in 18 career games, including a magnificent 43-point effort in an upset win at Pittsburgh on Jan. 7, 1989. He earned Big East Rookie of the Year honors after averaging 13.7 points per game in 1985-86. since surpassed by only Dana Barros, Bill Curley, Danya Abrams and Troy Bell. Carrington led the team in scoring for three seasons and posted a 19.7 points per game career average. He led the 1974-75 team to a 21-9 record and an NCAA Tournament berth, averaging 20.9 points per game. After graduation, Carrington played in the NBA for New Jersey, Indiana and San Diego.

CHUCK CHEVALIER '62 1973

One of the most popular players in BC history, Chevalier was a two-sport star, also excelling on the baseball diamond. On the hardwood, he was a flashy ballhandler and passer who served as the top playmaker of his era, earning him comparisons to Bob Cousy. He scored 25 points against Colby his freshman year, and ran the point as coach Don Martin's final two teams went 14-9 and 15-7, respectively.

BOB COUSY 1970

After winning six NBA championships in his final seven seasons with the Boston Celtics, "The Houdini of the Hardwood" brought his magic to the Heights, where he served as the Eagles' head coach for six seasons. Cousy compiled a 117-38 record at BC, including four 20-plus victory seasons. The 1968-69 season was the pinnacle of the Cousy era, as the Eagles went 24-4 and won 19 consecutive games, reaching the NIT finals. While at BC, Cousy brought in such talent as John Austin, Terry Driscoll, Billy Evans and Jim O'Brien, and his contributions brought new standards in hoop success to Chestnut Hill.

BILL CURLEY '94 2006

Bill Curley played in 126 games from 1990-94, helping the Eagles earn two berths in the National Invitation Tournament (1992 and 1993) and one memorable bid to the NCAA Tournament (1994). Curley and his classmates concluded their careers at the Heights in fine fashion. The Eagles defeated Washington State and top-ranked North Carolina in the first and second rounds of the NCAA Tournament, and then downed Indiana before bowing to Florida in the regional title game. Curley is one of only five players in school history to reach the coveted 2,000-point plateau. He recorded 2,102 career points and ranks fourth on the school's career scoring list. The Duxbury, Mass., product and four-time team MVP also ranks fourth on BC's all-time rebounding chart, having grabbed 996 rebounds.

TONY DAUKAS '54 1981

Daukas was a force in the middle for the Eagles of the early '50s. At 6-7, he possessed the scoring touch to finish with an 18.9 points per game average as a senior in 1954, and 1,154 points for his career. In 1951-52, Daukas was a part of a 22-5 team that beat Holy Cross for the first time in 23 years and posted the first 20-win season in BC history.

DR. TOM DAVIS 1981

The coach of the Eagles from 1977-82, Davis guided BC into the Big East era with a 100-47 record over his five seasons. His Eagles qualified for the NIT in 1980 with a 19-10 record, and earned NCAA Tournament bids the following two seasons. In 1980-81, Davis led BC to a 23-7 mark as the team earned the Big East regular-season title and reached the Sweet 16. He saved his best season for last, finishing 22-10 in 1981-82 and leading BC to the NCAA Tournament's Elite Eight before falling to a Houston team that featured Hakeem Olajawon and Clyde Drexler. During his time at the Heights, Davis recruited such stars as John Bagley, Michael Adams, Jay Murphy and Martin Clark, and his work at BC laid the foundation for the program's success in the 1980s.

BILL DONOVAN '62 2000

A three-year starter and team captain his senior season, Donovan totaled 1,012 points in his collegiate career, becoming just the fourth 1,000-point scorer in school history. Playing alongside fellow Hall of Famer Jim Hooley, Donovan averaged 14.5 points per game while leading his squads to a combined 40-29 record during his three-year career with the Eagles. An expert outside shooter, many feel that Donovan could have posted even greater scoring numbers had he played during the current three-point era, since most of his baskets came from long range.

TERRY DRISCOLL '69 1974

The captain of the 1968-69 team and the second-leading rebounder in school history (1,071), Driscoll finished his stellar playing career averaging 18.5 points and 13.9 rebounds per game. He averaged 23.3 points per game during his senior campaign, earning All-America honors in leading the Eagles to the NIT championship game in Bob Cousy's final season at the helm. As a junior, he averaged 17.8 points per game for a team that was ranked as high as sixth in the nation and earned a berth in the NCAA Tournament. Driscoll went on to play professionally after graduation.

FRAN DUGGAN '52 1987

Duggan entered Boston College in the fall of 1948 after graduating from South Boston High School and then spending one year at Newman Prep. He was the only local recruit in his class, one that featured New Yorkers Tim O'Connell and Tim O'Toole. Duggan played for the Eagles during a colorful era in college basketball history. He and his teammates began BC's climb to among the region's — and later the nation's — best programs. After playing in 18 games in his first varsity season, Duggan helped the Eagles to a 17-11 mark and the New England Tourney title in his junior season. Known as a "defensive forward," Duggan gained the respect of his teammates and foes for his rebounding and for his ability to shut down opposing teams' star players. During the 1950-51 season — one often labeled “easily the most important year in Boston College’s post-war basketball revival” — the Eagles defeated NCAA champion CCNY in BC’s first game in Madison Square Garden. The following year, Duggan and the Eagles registered the program’s first 20-win campaign, finishing 22-5. Chief among those victories was a season-ending 64-61 triumph over Holy Cross.

HOWARD EISLEY '94 2007

Howard Easley played in and started 126 games from 1990-94, helping the Eagles earn two berths in the National Invitation Tournament (1992 and 1993) and one memorable bid to the NCAA Tournament (1994). The Detroit, Mich., product scored 1,628 points and handed out 544 assists in his four years. He sank 197 career three-point field goals. Easley earned All-Big East second-team honors as a junior and senior, and captured NABC All-District I second-team honors in 1993. He went on to a terrific professional career, playing 786 NBA regular-season games (and 88 playoff games) with Minnesota, San Antonio, Utah, Dallas, New York, Phoenix, Los Angeles (Clippers) and Denver.

BILLY EVANS '69 1975

The playmaking point guard for Bob Cousy’s finest teams, Evans was a confident floor general who led the Eagles into the NIT championship game in his senior year. Setting up great scorers like Terry Driscoll and Steve Adelman, Evans is the Eagles’ all-time assists leader with 669. After graduating, he was drafted by the Boston Celtics.

FRANK FITZGERALD '71 1990

Fitzgerald came to Boston College from Saint Joseph’s High School in Metuchen, N.J., and enjoyed an outstanding career under coaches Bob Cousy (1968-69) and Chuck Daly (1969-71). Often overshadowed by star teammates like Terry Driscoll, Billy Evans and Jim O’Brien, Fitzgerald played a key role in each of his three varsity seasons. He finished his career with 1,042 points and 538 rebounds in 78 games. Among his most memorable moments was a last-second jump shot against Saint Joseph’s on Jan. 5, 1969, that gave BC a 76-74 victory in the Palestra. That victory began a 19-game winning streak that didn’t end until the National Invitation Tournament’s title game.

JOHN GARRIS '83 1996

Garris came to the Eagles after two years at Michigan, and became an instrumental part of the 1981-82 and 1982-83 NCAA Tournament squads. In his two seasons at the Heights, this rugged 6-8 forward helped BC to an impressive 47-17 record. Known as a big-game performer, Garris was named to the 1982 NCAA Tournament’s All-Tourney team after contributing to the Eagles’ upset of second-ranked DePaul and appearance in the Elite Eight. Garris’ finest NCAA performance, however, may have come the following year, when he registered 25 points and 12 rebounds against Ralph Sampson in a hard-fought 95-92 loss to Virginia. Garris averaged 19.7 points per game as a senior and went on to play for the NBA’s Cleveland Cavaliers.

GEORGE GIERSCH '59 1994

Dubbed “The Baron,” this fierce competitor was a defensive stalwart and solid overall performer for coach Don Martin’s teams of the late 1950s. Giersch was a junior guard/forward on the 1957-58 team that went 16-5 and earned BC’s first NCAA Tournament bid. As a sophomore, he led the Eagles in both field goals (111) and free throws (94). Giersch’s accomplishments during the years that put BC on the map are made even more impressive because of a childhood bout with polio that forced him to learn to walk again at age 7 and left one leg shorter than the other. He was also the baseball team’s ace starter until his senior year. He served in the U.S. Navy upon graduation.

ANTONIO GRANGER 2012

The most recent basketball alumnus to be inducted into the Varsity Club Athletic Hall of Fame, Antonio Granger was a forward who helped lead the Eagles to two NCAA Tournaments in 1996 and 1997 and led the Big East in three-point field goal percentage during the 1996-97 season. He currently ranks sixth in Eagles record books for three pointers (193) and fifth on the single-season list (78 in 1997-98). He scored in double figures in 68 career games, including 17 games with 20 or more points.

JACK HARRINGTON '58 1992

The captain of the 1957-58 Eagles, BC’s first team to make the NCAA Tournament, Harrington was a great rebounder and defender. Although he was just 6-3, he was the tallest player on the 1957-58 squad that finished with a 16-5 record and fell to Maryland in the NCAA Tournament. Harrington’s best offensive season was his sophomore year, when he led the team in scoring at just under 10 points per game. Defensively, he matched up with the opponent’s biggest player, making up for his lack of size with great instincts and aggressive play. The heart shown by this Eagle on the basketball court later carried over onto the battlefield, where Harrington served as a Navy SEAL after leaving the Heights.

ED HOCKENBURY '66 1995

The point guard and general for Coach Bob Cousy’s successful teams of 1963-66, he served as captain of the Eagles his senior year. He twice led BC to appearances in the NIT, as the Eagles went 43-12 in his final two campaigns. A versatile athlete, Hockenbury also earned letters in baseball and track. Following graduation, Hockenbury became a highly respected college basketball coach.

Varsity Club Hall of Fame

JIM HOOLEY '62

The term "Hooley Hoop" was a popular one in the early 1960s to report the scoring prowess of this sharpshooting forward. Hooley scored 1,209 career points, averaging 21.6 per game. He once connected on 20 field goal attempts in a single game, finishing with 46 points, one of the greatest scoring performances in BC history. He averaged 24.2 points per game in both 1960-61 and 1961-62, clearly distinguishing himself as the highest scoring Eagle of his day.

MALCOLM HUCKABY '94

Huckaby played in 126 games from 1990-94, helping the Eagles earn two berths in the National Invitation Tournament (1992 and 1993) and one memorable bid to the NCAA Tournament (1994). Huckaby and his classmates concluded their careers at the Heights in fine fashion. The Eagles defeated Washington State and top-ranked North Carolina in the first and second rounds of the NCAA Tournament, then downed Indiana before bowing to Florida in the regional title game. Huckaby recorded 1,316 career points and still ranks 14th on the school's all-time scoring list. The Bristol, Conn., product was a three-time recipient of the program's Defensive MVP award.

JIM KISSANE '68

This versatile 6-8 forward was a starter for all three of his varsity seasons, during which BC reached the NIT once and made two trips to the NCAA Tournament. Kissane was captain of the team in his senior year. In 1967-68, he was selected as the Most Valuable Player in the Boston Garden Tournament after leading the Eagles to victories over NC State and Providence, and his rebounding and shooting skills were instrumental in the team's still-legendary success during his years at the Heights. He was drafted by the NBA's Cincinnati Royals and later played with the Minnesota Pipers of the ABA.

JACK KVANCZ '68

In the height of Bob Cousy's reign as the Boston College basketball coach in the mid to late 1960s, Kvacnz combined with Billy Evans to form one of the top one-two guard combos in the nation. During his three varsity seasons, Kvacnz and the Eagles made two trips to the NCAA Tournament and one to the NIT. After his senior season, he earned the Bob Cousy Award as the top player in New England under six feet in height. After graduation, Kvacnz went on to become head coach and later athletics director at Catholic University as well as the athletics director at George Mason and George Washington.

JACK MAGEE '59

The leading scorer on the first Eagle hoop squad to make the NCAA Tournament, this center averaged 15.5 points per game as BC went 16-6 in his junior season. Magee and fellow BC Hall of Famer George Giersch were the heroes of a historic 1958 game against Holy Cross, when the Eagles defeated the Crusaders in Worcester for the first time, 73-68. After a senior season in which the Eagles went 17-9, Magee spent two years in the Army before returning to BC as an assistant coach. Magee later was an assistant to Coach Bob Cousy for three seasons before becoming head coach at Georgetown in 1966.

1979

ROGER MCCREADY '86

McCready came to Boston College from Xaverian (N.Y.) High School in the fall of 1982. At 6-5, he was an undersized small forward, but equally determined to battle in the post. By the time he finished his collegiate career, McCready had proven to fans and foes alike what heart and determination could accomplish. A four-year letterman, he played a key role on the Eagles' team that earned two NCAA Tournament berths and one NIT bid. The Eagles advanced to the NCAA Tournament's regional semifinals in both 1983 and 1985. He increased his scoring average in each of his four years — from 3.9 ppg as a freshman, to 9.5 ppg as a sophomore, to 14.8 ppg as a junior to 18.1 ppg as a senior. McCready, who tallied 1,365 collegiate points, ranks 13th on the school's career scoring list. As a senior, he led the Eagles in both scoring and rebounding.

JAY MURPHY '84

Murphy was one of the main reasons why Boston College enjoyed incredible success in the early 1980s. In fact, Murphy led the Eagles to three NCAA Tournaments — two Sweet 16s and one Elite Eight — and one NIT in his four seasons (1980-84). A two-year team captain, the Meriden, Conn., product led BC to an 88-36 record in his four seasons, and was a three-time Big East honoree. He currently ranks sixth on the school's career scoring list (1,795 points) and seventh on the career rebounding list (763 rebounds). Murphy was selected by the Golden State Warriors with the 31st pick in the 1984 NBA Draft. He played four seasons in the NBA — two each with the Los Angeles Clippers and Washington Bullets — before concluding his illustrious career in Europe (France and Italy).

JIM O'BRIEN '71

As a sophomore, O'Brien averaged more than 13 points per game for Bob Cousy's final team, which won 15 straight games and made it to the NIT final. He set a school record with 18 assists against Le Moyne as a senior and he still ranks second on the BC career list with 663 assists. O'Brien also scored 1,273 points over his three varsity seasons, good for a 16.5 ppg average. He returned in 1986 to assume head coaching duties at the Heights, and in 11 seasons led the Eagles to 168 wins, three NITs and three NCAA Tournaments. O'Brien brought such stars as Bill Curley, Howard Easley and Danya Abrams to the Heights. His greatest achievements as coach were an unexpected run to the NCAA Tournament's Elite Eight in 1994 and BC's first Big East Tournament championship in 1997.

TOM O'BRIEN '50

O'Brien was captain of the 1950 squad and is the uncle of fellow BC great Jim O'Brien '71. The elder O'Brien was a top player of the Al McClellan era, an inspiring leader, an aggressive defender and rebounder, and a favorite of his coaches. Although not a scorer by trade, O'Brien was a team player who made everyone on his team better.

TIM O'CONNELL '52

This tenacious rebounding center was undersized even by 1950s standards. Despite doing battle with larger pivotmen every night, the 6-2 O'Connell was the starting center on the Heights for four seasons. He was one of a number of New York City-area recruits who, under coach Al McClellan, began to elevate BC basketball during the pre-Roberts Center era, culminating in a 64-61 win over rival and national power Holy Cross. That game, played on March 4, 1952, was a watershed event for BC basketball; it marked the Eagles' first victory over Holy Cross in 23 years. O'Connell's 1952 senior team finished 22-5, but was overlooked by the postseason tournaments.

TOM O'TOOLE '52

A sharp-shooting guard, deft passer and tenacious player, O'Toole was a principle weapon on the teams of Al McClellan that placed Boston College at the forefront of the Eastern collegiate basketball scene. O'Toole scored 703 points in his three-year varsity career, averaging 10.3 points per game. As a senior captain, O'Toole helped boost the Eagles to a 22-5 record — still one of the best records ever at BC. His final game was a 64-61 upset of Holy Cross in which he tallied a game-high 23 points and ended his career to a thunderous standing ovation.

After a standout schoolboy career at Mission High in Roxbury, where he was tutored by Frank Power, Powell enjoyed an equally impressive collegiate career at the Heights. Slowed by an ankle injury suffered in his first varsity contest, Powell saw glimpses of action in 20 of the team's 22 games in his sophomore season. The following season, with Don Martin having assumed the head coaching duties, Powell rose to prominence. In fact, Coach Martin described the 6-3 Powell's rise to fame as "phenomenal." Powell, who commuted to school from his home in Jamaica Plain, became known for his uncanny offensive and defensive rebounding ability. Labeled BC's own "Mr. Rebounder," Powell grabbed 30 rebounds in one game (against Brandeis on Dec. 16, 1954) and averaged 19.0 rebounds per game in 1954-55, his senior season. He also was recognized for his "deadly accurate one-hand push shot." Not satisfied with his basketball duties, Powell was also active in intramural football and softball during his days at the Heights.

FRANK POWER '43

Power is among the most celebrated men in the annals of BC basketball. He spent 32 years as a scout, recruiter and assistant to six different head coaches. He also served as head coach for the 1962-63 season while Bob Cousy played his final NBA season. Today, the Frank Power Award is presented annually to the BC player who exemplifies the spirit and love for Boston College that was characteristic of coach Power. In addition, the current team practices in Power Gymnasium, another tribute to a man whose dedication to his alma mater will always be remembered.

DOMINIC PRESSLEY '86

Pressley played for the Eagles from 1982-86. In his collegiate career, Pressley impressed BC fans and foes with his quickness and defensive prowess. He played in 119 career games, starting 109. He missed just two games in his four years at the Heights. While his tenacity on the defensive end became his trademark, Pressley's offensive output was often overlooked. He finished with 967 career points. Pressley's contributions played a key role in the Eagles gaining two NCAA Tournament bids (1983 and 1985) and one NIT berth (1984) during his career. He played 1 games in the NBA in 1988-89.

RICH SHRIGLEY '82

A three-sport star at Nashua (N.H.) High School, this tough 6-5 forward turned down a scholarship offer from his uncle, Norm Sloan of Florida, to enroll at BC. Shrigley started from day one at the Heights, and played in virtually every game during his four seasons. As a senior in 1981-82, he was a captain, and chipped in 12 points in an NCAA Tournament victory over San Francisco, filling the void left by a foul-plagued John Bagley. During Shrigley's basketball career, the Eagles averaged 21 wins a year. BC went to the NIT in 1979-80, where Shrigley earned all-star accolades. The Eagles made the NCAA Tournament the next two years. After finishing his senior season, he remained at BC and joined the football team the following fall, playing tight end for BC's first bowl-bound squad in 40 years.

JOHN SILK '53

A high-scoring forward with exceptional quickness, Silk scored 859 points in his three varsity seasons. Among his many memorable moments while wearing the maroon and gold was a BC victory over defending NCAA champion CCNY before a capacity crowd at Madison Square Garden. Silk led BC scorers in that game, the Eagles' first ever in "The World's Most Famous Arena." The following year, he scored 24 points in helping BC to its first win over archrival Holy Cross in 27 years. He was also captain of the 1953 squad.

TOM VERONNEAU '70

A junior starter on coach Bob Cousy's 24-4 NIT runner-up team of 1968-69, this big man began his career at BC as a walk-on. Fortunately, Cousy saw something in Veronneau, who went on to set an NCAA field-goal percentage record of 68.7 percent in 1968-69. Despite finishing with the BC career field-goal percentage mark, Veronneau was known primarily as a defensive stopper, guarding the likes of Spencer Haywood and Wes Unseld during his magical junior campaign. He served as team captain as a senior, and gained Academic All-America second-team honors after the season.

GERRY WARD '63

The captain of the 1963 squad, this big man averaged 15.6 points and 13.3 rebounds per game over his varsity career. Although his teams never played in the postseason, Ward's feats on the court were tremendous. During his senior year, Ward averaged 20 points per game in legendary coach Frank Power's one season as head man. After graduation, he was a first-round draft pick of the St. Louis Hawks.

MEL WELDON '76

Although he played just two years on the Heights, Weldon had a tremendous impact on the program's fortunes. BC was mired in a four-year postseason drought when he arrived from junior college and breathed life into a listless 11-14 team. In Weldon's first year, the 1973-74 Eagles improved to 21-9 and reached the NIT quarterfinals. The following year, he served as team captain. Led by his speed and defensive play, BC again recorded a 21-9 mark and reached the NCAA Tournament's Sweet 16. He averaged more than 10 points per game and served as the team's main playmaker. Perhaps Weldon's finest individual performance came against Providence in Roberts Center, when he scored 30 points, including the last 10 of the game from the free throw line. After graduation, Weldon played professionally in Venezuela before returning to live in his native New Jersey.

WILLIE WOLTERS '67

A starter in every game during his BC career, Wolters captained the 1966-67 team for coach Bob Cousy. The Eagles won 67 of 82 games with him in the lineup. His teams were twice invited to the NIT and earned one NCAA Tournament bid. As a sophomore, he pulled down a record-setting 30 rebounds against Seton Hall, and finished his career with 979 boards. Upon graduation, Wolters played briefly for the NBA's Seattle Supersonics.

BOSTON COLLEGE

BOSTON COLLEGE

Boston College was founded in 1863 by the Society of Jesus to serve the sons of Boston's Irish immigrants. It was the first institution of higher education to be founded in the city of Boston. Today, it is one of the foremost universities in the nation, with a coeducational enrollment of nearly 14,700 undergraduate and graduate students from all 50 states and more than 80 countries.

Boston College has grown not just in size, but also in diversity and stature. Today, it is ranked 31st among national universities by US News & World Report. Its Graduate School of Social Work is listed among the nation's top 10, also by US News, while the graduate programs of its Lynch School of Education are among the top 20 and its Connell School of Nursing and Law School among the top 30. In addition, the Carroll School of Management is ranked ninth in Bloomberg/BusinessWeek's "Top Undergraduate Business Programs 2012."

Boston College is among the nation's most selective universities, with approximately 34,000 applications received for its 2,250-member Class of 2016, and is numbered among the top American private research universities.

After more than a century of growth and evolution, Boston College holds fast to the ideals that inspired its Jesuit founders. The University today remains focused on its mission of helping students to develop their minds and talents while providing them with the motivation and compassion to use those talents in the service of others.

"Deeply rooted in its Catholic and Jesuit origins, Boston College offers an education that is distinctive in spirit and content, that is doubly rich with the best of human thought and with the profound insights of faith," writes Reverend William P. Leahy, SJ, who assumed the presidency of Boston College in 1996. "We believe that Boston College provides a transforming experience for young men and women."

A continued expression of this philosophy, based on the Jesuit principle of cura personalis, or care for the individual, is the faculty's dedication to teaching. BC faculty members have been honored for their teaching by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Education, while the University's overall commitment to teaching has been ranked among the nation's top 20, also by US News & World Report.

A Boston College education focuses not only on intellectual development, but also on personal, spiritual and physical development. Students are asked to use their abilities, education and acquired skills to help others in need, whether in Boston or Belize. For example, each year, BC undergraduates give some 550,000 hours of community service in the Boston area, while more than 650 students trade vacation for service during Spring Break. Nearly 2,000 students take part in retreats and spiritual formation activities annually.

Today, the Boston College motto "ever to excel" also extends to a broad array of extracurricular activities and opportunities ranging from sports to the arts. Athletics is integral to the University's focus on the development of the whole person in mind, body and soul. BC offers 31 men's and women's varsity sports — all of which compete at the NCAA Division I level — and perennially has one of the highest student-athlete graduation rates in Division IA.

William P. Leahy, S.J., became the 25th president of Boston College on July 31, 1996. Born in Omaha, he grew up on his family's farm near Imogene, Iowa. After one year of college at Creighton University, he entered the Wisconsin Province of the Society of Jesus in 1967. He received a bachelor's degree in philosophy and a master's degree in United States history from Saint Louis University in 1972 and 1975, respectively. Between 1975 and 1979, he studied theology at the Jesuit School of Theology in Berkeley, California, earning a master's degree in divinity and a master's degree in sacred theology while there. Ordained a priest in 1978, he completed doctoral studies in United States history at Stanford University in 1985.

Father Leahy joined the department of history at Marquette University in 1985 and became a tenured associate professor there six years later. In July 1991, he was named executive vice president at Marquette, where he served until being named president of Boston College in 1996.

During his years at Boston College, Father Leahy has presided over an institution that has become one of the nation's best and most selective national universities. Since 1996, BC's endowment, sponsored research grants and student financial aid have more than doubled, and the percentage of student applicants accepted has fallen from 41 percent to 27 percent, while SAT scores have risen by more than 160 points. In addition, more than 100 full-time faculty members have been added, minority student enrollment in undergraduate programs has climbed from 18 percent to 28 percent and annual cash gifts to the University have increased from $24 million to $100 million.

During his presidency, undergraduate applications to Boston College have grown from 16,500 to more than 34,000, making BC one of the 10 most — applied to private universities in the United States. Currently, the University enrolls students from all 50 states and 80 countries, and its undergraduates have earned more than 300 prestigious fellowships, including two Rhodes Scholarships. Student-athletes at BC succeed in balancing the demands of academics and athletics, and BC consistently ranks among those universities with the highest NCAA graduation rates.

Following a comprehensive assessment and planning effort by the Boston College community, in 2007 the University announced a 10-year Strategic Plan that will build on Boston College's strengths and accomplishments of the past and will focus additional resources on undergraduate liberal arts education and formation, as well as integrated science research and teaching. The University also intends to increasingly apply the strengths of its professional schools to resolving critical societal issues, and foster even more international links. In addition, Boston College intends to remain faithful to its Jesuit, Catholic heritage and to become the leading Catholic university and theological center in the world.

This was definitely a great experience for basketball, but the memories that all of us guys shared will never be forgotten by any of us. I know that 30 years from now we will be able to look back and say that we had a great trip. This trip really brought all of us much closer. We were all good friends and liked each other before, but spending this time together has really made us a family. I've said it before, but I wouldn't have wanted to go on this trip with anyone else. We made memories for a lifetime.
